Our Story

In 2010, Sonpreet Bhatia, Archana Patchirajan and Puneet Mehta, three friends who were working in the financial space, leveraged their collective technology experience to come up with the first MyCityWay app, NYC Way, a mega-utility app for New York City residents and tourists. That same year, they entered NYC Way into the BigApps competition, sponsored by the City of New York. The app went on to become the most successful app in the competition, winning three awards, including Popular Choice and Investor's Choice, and earned an endorsement from Mayor Michael Bloomberg. Today, NYC Way is joined by 66 other city apps across the U.S., Europe and Asia including Chicago Way, London Way and India Way. Sonpreet, Archana, Puneet and the growing team at MyCityWay continue its core mission to build groundbreaking technology, help create jobs and ultimately contribute to the economy.

The Team

Sonpreet Bhatia, Co-Founder, MyCityWay

When Sonpreet Bhatia, Co-Founder of MyCityWay, pursued her Master's Degree in Information Systems in 1999, she had no idea that a pending downturn would lead her down the path of Internet entrepreneurship.
