Ontology Summit 2011 - Launch

national center for ontological research

Barry Smith – Fabian Neuhaus / 20-Jan-2011

Goals

- advance ontology as science
- foster development of high quality ontologies
- develop measures of quality for ontologies to establish best practices
- advance ontology education –
Advanced Certificate Program to be initiated in 2011

Expectations

- For ontology to become successful as engineering discipline we need training opportunities for young academics.
- Universities will not offer courses if there is no demand.
- Students are not be interested in a degree in ontology because they are not convinced that it offers them a career.
- One audience for “Making the Case for Ontology”: potential students
