Kickoff Meeting July 14, 2008

- BSP Project Charter
- Architects
- Facility Managers
- Env. Impacts
- Emergency Response

Conference call / webinar etiquette

- Test the url link well before the web meeting starts.
- Put your phone on mute (if possible) especially if you're eating, listening to music or carrying on conversations with others.
- This is not the time to play "stump the chump" or file a grievance.
- The best webinars are ones where presenters and attendees have a mutual respect for each other and their time
- Be respectful of others when asking questions.

General principles in Ontology authoring

- A well defined scope
- keep the ontology as simple as possible
- collaboration between the domain expert and the knowledge engineer
- What is ontology?

Long Term Goals

Conference call / webinar etiquette

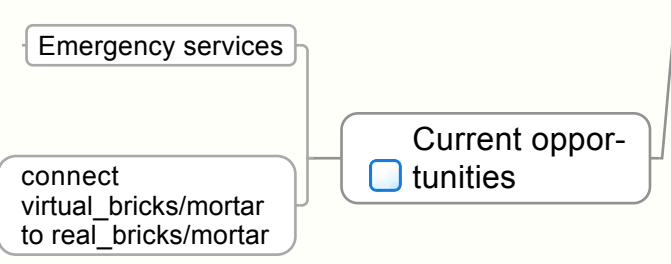

- Test the url link well before the web meeting starts.
  - You won't be able to join the conference, but you should get an idea of whether you'll need other software like an ActiveX component.
- Put your phone on mute (if possible) especially if you're eating, listening to music or carrying on conversations with others.
  - It's amazing how much background noise such as people typing comes through especially for attendees who wear headsets.
  - If possible, use a microphone or headset when you talk
- This is not the time to play "stump the chump" or file a grievance.
  - Don't be one of those people that create the most obscure hypothetical question for the sake of getting the presenter to admit they don't know the answer.
- The best webinars are ones where presenters and attendees have a mutual respect for each other and their time
- Be respectful of others when asking questions.
  - Ask the presenter if it's OK to ask another question rather than assuming it is.
  - You're seldom the only one with questions.
